Worked as a graphic designer and Illustrator at NBC Universal in New York on all the show's listed. The Tonight Show, and Conan TBS were taped in California. The graphics for Conan as well as SNL varied from creating fake product package designs, logos for fictional companies, storyboards for pre-taped show segments, illustration art as needed, and providing graphic assets to Conan's web designers. Working on these shows required quick, creative solution to projects, given that they were taped daily except for SNL, which was weekly.

PRUDENTIAL SECURITIES FINANCIAL FIRM, NYC

1991 - 1993

Graphic designer for their financial brochures, newsletters and internal campaigns. Many of these projects were assigned to be completed from the design stage, getting price bids from vendors, and following through with trips to the print vendors to supervise the completed job. My illustration skills came in handy since I was able to provide costume art instead of having to use clip art.

A project I felt very proud to have worked on at Prudential was their internal newsletter, Pinnacle. Because of my experience in print, I turned their quarterly 4 to 8 page newsletter into a 40 plus page publication. At the time a lot of people were impressed with the upgrade.
