CAER CADARN
The Pendragon Fortress

The castle is part subterranean, hune from the rock of the hill is sits with timber and stone additions. With references to the rock castles of North Bohemia and Saxon Switzerland, our build takes on a brutalist nod, a minimal world where everything has a purpose. No piles of hay or random oak barrels, this is world devoid of medieval troupes. A world grounded in the brutal and gritty story that surrounds it.

The EXT gated entrance is built on a Welsh mountain side, rounding the corner into an expansive composite set featuring courtyards and stables on the backlot that lead through the roller shutter door of the studio into a myriad of studio built tunnels, chambers, baths and staircases, eventually entering the Great Hall.

AVALON

The sacred home of the Druids

Avalon is home to the Tor, a gathering place for celebration, contemplation and ritual. The Tor is also Merlin's home. Surrounding the majestic tower is a thriving industry of wool production. Sheep shearing, fleece carding, wool dying, drying and packaging, before being transported off in huge wool bales to merchants near and far. This wool processing gave our sacred valley colour, life and purpose.

The Tor is a partial prac build on location with a VFX extension, the surrounding village is extended in the drone shots but there were numerous practical INT/EXT builds on site.
