Every once and a while you get to design something really fun! The Hip Hop Hangout is a representation of what it might be like inside the phone app that our main character, Lay Lay, originated in. It's a theatrical interpretation with constant reminders we are in a self affirmation app. The set pieces were carved by Advanced Foam and there are hints at other apps on the towers upstage. The upstage window is two flat screen monitors playing an animated digital outdoor movie file.
