

A movie poster for the film "Nautilus". The central image shows the main cast members standing behind a large, ornate wooden ship's wheel. They are in a dark, industrial-looking interior, likely the interior of a submarine, with blue light filtering through portholes. A large, dark, tentacle-like structure is visible in the foreground. The title "NAUTILUS" is written in large, golden, serif capital letters across the middle of the image.
